County Agencies Collaborate to Bring Unparalleled Convenience to Maricopa County Residents

May 7, 2015, Phoenix – On May 12, 2015 at 9:00 a.m., Maricopa County Recorder Helen Purcell will unveil the product of a partnership with the Maricopa County Environmental Service Department and the Air Quality Department. The event will take place at the Northwest Regional Library, 16089 N. Bullard Avenue in Surprise, Arizona.

The partnership will allow Maricopa County residents to file documents with both the Environmental Service Department and the Air Quality Department through the Recorder's Digital Recording Kiosks. Documents able to be filed through the Recording Kiosks include subcontractor registrations, dust permit cancellations and special event applications. A full list of the services and locations is available at <http://recorder.maricopa.gov/recorder/kiosk.aspx>.

The collaboration builds upon the successful partnership between the Recorder's Office and the Maricopa County Library District, which placed the Digital Recording Kiosks in libraries throughout Maricopa County.

"Our Digital Recording Kiosks already offer unparalleled convenience to Maricopa County Residents," Purcell said, "and now as a result of this collaboration, the services provided through the kiosks will be even more extensive." The first Digital Recording Kiosk was introduced in 2010, allowing for the convenient recording of documents without traveling to the Recorder's Office in Phoenix or Mesa. Since then, seven additional kiosks have been placed in locations throughout Maricopa County.

"This is a culmination of county agencies working together, being fiscally responsible and making it easier for our residents to do business in Maricopa County," said Clint Hickman, Maricopa County District 4 Supervisor.

"We are pleased to offer these services to Maricopa County residents and invite the public to join us for this special event," said Purcell. Mrs. Purcell will be joined at the event by Maricopa County District 4 Supervisor Clint Hickman, Maricopa County Manager Tom Manos, Maricopa County Library District Director Cindy Kolaczynski, Environmental Services Director Steven Goode, and Air Quality Director Phillip McNeely.
